

Sandpapers:

The sandpaper are coated abrasives most known and used in various types of industries for for different applications. They can be used for roughing work or even polished. They are basically composed of a backing for abrasive grains with some adhesive for fixing. Depending on the material used and the work perform different types of sandpaper are needed.

Flap discs: Strong and high quality steel work.

Zirconium flap discs for use in thick steels or stainless steels.

Ceramic discs for alloy steels with additional coating.

Fiber discs for a perfect finish at grinding and burring.

Brushes without shaft

Sleeves sheets

